Boulder Blocks Rescue Attempt

Explorer of Mammoth Cave Held With Foot Crushed Under Stone

STRENGTH EBBING FAST

Rescuers Will Try to Dig Tunnel Through Hillside in Last Trial

Cave City, Ky.—Pain of face his lips purple and his strength fast ebbing, Floyd Collins early Tuesday lay in the molelike hole in Sand Cave waiting for someone, something, to release his foot, held down by a huge boulder which fell on it when he was exploring the cave Friday morning.

For 24 hours he was alone, the constant drip of water from melting snow and ice on the surface growing more deadly monotonous hour by hour.

Saturday he was found, and since that time scores of men have tried in vain to rescue him.

Cave City, Ky.—Skilled stone workers who came from Louisville Monday to assist in releasing him plan to return Tuesday afternoon because they say their services have been declined.

Other efforts to free Collins continued, but still are largely unorganized. Employees of the Louisville Monument Co. said to be experts in stone work and use of drills were not permitted to enter the cave. For a survey and members of the Collins family blocked their efforts to aid, one of the members of the firm said Tuesday afternoon.

No tunneling has been done, however, and the only actual work now under way is that of widening the cave near the entrance. Stone and mud are being passed along by hand man to man. This method, veteran cave men estimated might require several days or even a week before Collins was reached.

Early Tuesday it was discovered that workmen within the cave could be heard faintly from the side of a hill about 800 feet from the entrance. The spot was discovered accidentally. Members of the party outside the cave hurried to the hillside, placed their ears against a rock and heard workmen inside chipping away at the sandstone.

PLAN TO DIG TUNNEL

With new life injected into the entire party, a plan to bring 100 men to the scene and dig a tunnel immediately was evolved. The rescue work heretofore heroic but haphazard and unorganized took on a semblance of order. If a tunnel put through the hill at this point strikes Sand Cave more than 150 feet from the entrance workmen will for the first time reach Collins from the side where the rock weighing him down can be seen.

Meanwhile another plan, previously untied, was being pushed by those men working within the cave. A large screw jack, supplied by the Courier-Journal, was to be placed against the wall in front of Collins. With a pipe or piece of lumber extending from the jack across Collins' body to the slab it was planned to exert pressure against the stone. If the prisoner was moved five inches rescuers argue it might be possible to move the rock backward far enough to permit extracting Collins.

HOLD HUSBAND WHEN BODY OF WOMAN IS FISHED OUT OF WELL

Marionette — John Sanek, Peshigo farmer, was in the county jail here Tuesday morning held without charge in connection with the finding of his wife's body in a well on his farm Monday.

Meanwhile an autopsy over the body was in progress and the coroner's physician was expected to make a report before noon. The coroner's inquest will be held later.

Authorities here when notified of the gruesome find, left for Peshigo late Monday afternoon. After removing the body a preliminary examination indicated no signs of foulplay. The well was about seven feet deep and the approach to it was surrounded by ice. A ball of water was standing on the edge of the well and it is believed that Mrs. Yonick slipped and fell headlong into the shaft after bringing a pail of water to the surface.

Blaine Frees 2 Drunks Held In Workhouse

Blaine Valentine and William Carney of Freedom, the former a cheese maker and the latter a farmer, who were serving 60 day sentences in the county workhouse for drunkenness, were pardoned by Gov. J. J. Blaine late last week and released from custody.

Both men had been arrested last year on complaint of their wives, and although they denied the charges were found guilty and sentenced to 60 days in the workhouse. With the men imprisoned, the women had a change of heart and immediately took steps to secure their husbands' release.

The women endeavored to appeal the cases to a higher court, but found that the period in which to appeal had already expired. They then petitioned the governor for pardons. Previously, however, Mrs. Carney induced her husband to deed over his farm to her.

Although free from the workhouse Valentine still has another case pending. He had been arrested previously on the same charge but appealed the case. Both men had served 19 days of their sentence.

COMMITTEE SEEKS PEACE FOR HERRIN

Five Men Are Appointed to Settle Feud Without Aid of Military

Herrin, Ill.—Peace in Williamson county was the object of a committee of five men who Tuesday began their efforts to restore quiet to the turbulent region, if possible without the aid of martial law. Meanwhile a representative of the sheriff's office was believed to be in Springfield with a request that Governor Small put the military in command here.

The committee was named Monday at a meeting in the Marion court house, where in another room a grand jury continued work on the case involving the death of a man said to be Joseph Phillips, a miner, who was killed in a hotel here last Saturday night.

The five men were named by the county board of supervisors as those best fitted for the work, none having taken an active part in the violence that has become known as a characteristic of the territory and none of them is under indictment.

Harrisburg, Pa.—The mysterious stranger slain at Herrin on Sunday morning by a policeman, and known there and at East St. Louis as Joseph Phillips, was tentatively identified as Phil Farmer, a son of Life Farmer, a well-to-do farmer near Eldorado in this county. The man at one time was said to have been a special police officer in Eldorado.

SHEBOYGAN MAN KILLS WIFE, THEN SUICIDES

By Associated Press

Sheboygan, Wis.—A 27-year-old man shot and killed his wife, 27 years old, and then turned a pistol on himself here Monday night. Before Mrs. Hoehnke died physicians operated unsuccessfully to save the life of her unborn child.

The shooting occurred at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stachmeyer. Hoehnke and his wife had been estranged for more than a month prior to the shooting. Late Monday he visited a hardware store and purchased a pistol.

He returned to his home and later rushed into the Stachmeyer home a block away. Mrs. Hoehnke was seated in the kitchen with her eighteen-month-old daughter on her knee.

Hoehnke opened fire on his wife without warning, two bullets entering her body and one her head. He then fled from the house and about a block down the street stopped and fired a bullet into his head and another into his heart, falling dead.

OLD AGE CAUSES DEATH OF FORMER BADGER GOVERNOR

Edward Scofield Second of Guests at Reid Dinner to Die

Oconto — Edward Scofield, former governor of the State of Wisconsin, died at his home here Tuesday at 11:45 A. M. The former governor has been in ill health for several weeks and Monday night was reported in better condition. A bulletin issued by his physician Tuesday morning indicated that his condition had changed for the worse two hours before his death.

The former governor lapsed into unconsciousness at 10 o'clock and did not regain consciousness.

His son George and the latter's daughter were at his bedside when Dr. Alvinne Hopkins announced that life was extinct.

Cause of death was attributed to old age, according to Dr. Hopkins who had attended him for the past two years during which time he had been confined to his home. However it was not until recently that he was confined to his bed.

TONGUE SHOT AWAY MAN IS UNABLE TO BETRAY ASSAILANT

Milwaukee — Police are investigating the finding of a man seriously wounded by lying by a roadside just outside the city limits early Monday. The man is suffering from gunshot wounds and his condition is critical, according to hospital authorities.

The man, according to members of the sheriff's office was wounded by several charges of buckshot. His tongue is partially shot away and he is unable to talk and has refused to attempt to write his identity. His clothing contains no mark by which he may be identified. Leroy Atkinson, a farmer, told authorities of hearing five shots fired shortly before the man was found, but thought it was a motor backfiring. A short time thereafter a large machine in which three men were riding pulled into his driveway and turned about pointing toward town.

The authorities have not been able to decide whether the wounded man was driven to the point where his body was found, forced from the machine in which he was riding and shot, or whether he was attacked while walking along the road.

His clothing indicates that he is a laboring man.

Washington, D. C.—The output of steel works and rolling mills in 1923 was valued at $3,354,324,671, an increase of 112 per cent, as compared with the $1,481,659,352 valuation in 1921, according to biennial census figures announced Tuesday by the department of commerce. The 1924 figure is 11.5 greater than that for the production of 1919.

PROPOSE TO DOUBLE GOVERNOR'S SALARY

Madison.—The annual salary of the Governor of Wisconsin would be raised from $5,000 to $10,000 under a bill being prepared for introduction in the legislature by Senator H. E. Roldt, Sheboygan Falls.

Many of our other state employees and justices of the supreme court receive more compensation than does the governor, who occupies the highest state post. The legislature should provide a salary that is in accord with the position," Senator Roldt asserted Tuesday.

The senator is receiving considerable support for his proposed bill among all factions of the legislature. He is a Republican of the stalwart type.

Another bill contemplated by Senator Roldt would bring about annual sessions of the state legislature, curbing their activities to three months and provide a mileage rate of five cents for weekend home visits during recess. Elections, however, would take place every two years, as at present, under the bill.

The new normal school bill providing for four year courses and degrees is ready for introduction. Senator Walter Hunt, River Falls, announced before the session Tuesday he would introduce the measure which he said has the unanimous support of all normal school heads educational leaders. State normal school in Wisconsin never have had the right to grant degrees and in this respect lag far behind other states. Senator Hunt says four million dollars of eleven million dollars to be raised under the new tax bill if adopted, would remain in the state, in place of the present state share of $600,000. The bill scheduled to appear before the legislature this week, is said to shift the burden of the debt, but with the personal property offset clause removed, as a possible inducement for support of the bill members of the legislature. A fight is expected on the bill.

Part of Precious Serum Is Frozen but Medic Hopes It Is Effective

SLEEPS AFTER LONG RUN

First Shipment of Antitoxin Averts Disaster from Stricken City

Nome, Alaska—Fatigued after two days' loss of sleep and exhausted from driving a team of dogs 80 miles to Nome through a blinding blizzard for seven and one half hours in order to deliver 300,000 units of diphtheria antitoxin, Monday, Gunna Kesson was asleep Tuesday.

Kesson accomplished a feat seldom attained by seasoned mushers of the sub arctic. For two days he waited on the trail at Bluff with 13 dogs, headed by Balto of the Hammon Consolidated Goldfields Co. to transfer serum shipped from Anchorage, via Nenana from Olsen's relay dog team.

When Olsen's team trotted into Bluff with the precious load of diphtheria antitoxin, intended to check the spread of the dreaded disease in Nome, the bundle was transferred to Kesson's sled.

Despite a temperature of 25 degrees below zero at a blizzard fanned by a stiff wind, Kesson waited on the storm and darkness prevented him from meeting Fred Rohan at Solomon for the stage short relay dash into Nome. He kept up the pace, however, and reached here at daybreak.

Four dogs in his team were badly frozen.

Rohan arrived before noon from Solomon after he learned Kesson had missed him.

Farm Leaders Content With Report Of Board

Prompt Action of Commission Removes Question of Relief as Cause of Extra Session

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925 by The Post Pub. Co., Washington, D. C. — Agricultural relief upon which congress has expressed itself so often and in so many varying formulas has been analyzed at last by the president's agricultural commission in a manner satisfactory to most of the leaders from farm states.

"The prompt action on the part of the commission," Senator Capper, chairman of the farm bloc said Monday, "removes the farm problem as a moot cause for an extra session of congress. This is just ample justification, if there is a legislative will, to write all the enactments necessary to put the suggested program into effect."

"The program gives major emphasis to marketing. As the president earlier had said, the problem of the farm is not on the farm but in the market. The commission's report specifically recommends means to link up existing cooperative marketing associations of producers into effective and smoothworking coordination that will bring them into line with the paraphernalia of order distribution in other industries."

HOLD WONDER GIRL IN POISON ATTEMPT

Child of Seven Confesses to Giving Ground Glass to Her Sister

Los Angeles, Calif.—Seven-year-old Alma Thompson was under observation at the general hospital Tuesday as a result of an alleged attempt to kill members of the family where she was boarded. The child is accused of mixing ant poison and acid from a radio battery and attempting to induce several persons to eat it. When they refused the girl attacked Maxine Platts, aged 6, and slashed her wrists with a safety razor blade. Officers said the child admitted the charge and that she explained "I guess I did it because I am so mean."

Questioned at greater length Monday night, the girl is alleged to have told police that she killed her twin sister with ground glass two years ago while living in Dauphin, Manitoba, Canada, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson.

In statements given to newspaper reporters this angle of the child's purported confession but admitted themselves puzzled by the fact that she is an unusually precocious girl, having reached the eighth grade in school while still of a kindergarten age.

RUSSIA CONFIDENT AMERICA SOON WILL GRANT RECOGNITION

Moscow—Soviet Russia daily is becoming more sanguine of American recognition and Soviet officials seldom lose an opportunity to tell the people that the United States will be forced to reestablish relations with Russia before the end of the present year.

Addressing a large gathering of Kharlov Communist Moscow Christian Belokobylskii charged that the British in London who is on a special speech making tour, said:

"I am audacious enough to prophesy that the United States will recognize us this year, not because I have received information from private sources, but because the prevailing international situation brought about by the recognition of Soviet Russia by France, Japan Italy and other countries will compel America to recognize us too."

Acceptance by Europe of the Dawes plan means that the United States will play an increasingly large part in international affairs. It means in direct fact that the United States will be obliged finally to recognize Soviet Russia."

BUILD CHARACTER OF BOYS TO MAKE BETTER CITIZENS

Judge Graess Urges Greater Interest in Training of Youth

The ultimate aim in life is to help the child and in doing so a parent should not shrink the distasteful. Judge Henry Graess of Green Bay said in his address to the Parent-Teachers association of First Ward school Monday night. Judge Graess made an earnest appeal to the parents to become interested in their children, to play with them, share their ideas, and to guide them in the right direction. L. Johns, president of the association, presided at the meeting. The school orchestra played a number of selections and after the program a social hour with dancing was enjoyed. The attendance was excellent and at the conclusion of the address the judge was given a tremendous ovation.

Judge Graess's talk was on boys, but as he said, it might well apply to girls. He told the parents that the biggest asset a city has is its boys and girls and since they are to be men and women of tomorrow, it behooves their parents to guide them carefully, and build them as skillfully as they would a business structure. He deplored the lack of interest on the part of many parents. He said the state spent great sums to build up the best of dairy herds and to encourage other industries; he asked why no greater interest was taken in boys and girls.

TEACH RESPECT
One of his big points was that the child should be taught respect to age, kindness, thoughtfulness and that the golden rule of life was found in the Ten Commandments, even though they were brief and had been handed down through ages. The Ten Commandments had endured, he said.

In his career as teacher, prosecutor, defender and judge, some 1,500 boys had come before him. Judge Graess said, and he noted that one can make these over Judge Graess. He told his audience that it's hard to make good boys stay good, but it was harder to make bad boys into good ones. For this reason he urged that parents take greater care in training their children and be careful to set a good example.

WATCH SPARE TIME
It is in a boy's idle moments that he gets into trouble and the judge proposed that the remedy be employed during the youth's spare time. The same forces that lead him into mischief, he declared, lead him to righteousness. Supervised play was his cure. For this reason Judge Graess declared he was an enthusiast for scouting or any other equally beneficial organization.

He pleaded with the men to give time to boys. "Get down to their level," he said, "and then lead them in the right direction. Keep your office doors open, invite confidence of boys even if you have none of your own. Invest yourself in boys."

We live in a wonderful era, Judge Graess said, and we only are on the outer door, knocking, to find out the secret of all things. But wealth is not measured in gold, but in character. It is the boy's character that must be built if he is to grow right.

Social diseases are a problem that parents shrink, although, Judge Graess declared, it is their duty to explain such matters to their children. He gave statistics showing the appalling number of crippled and deformed children in the country which result from social diseases, often inherited.

Here was the real problem of the parent, the judge urged, and one that needed the most attention. He asked the parents to put aside the squeamishness, the cowardly, conservatism of silence and to warn their children of the price that is paid for an unclean life in order that the next generation might be better.

The children who played in the school orchestra were: Erma Newby, Chester Davis, Robert Mueller, Erwin Rooks and Nathan Spector, first violins, Sidney Dutcher, Dorothy Warner, Donald Mueller and Wesley Wenkauf, second violins. Miss Hazel Smith of the faculty directed the orchestra, all members of which did not appear Monday night.

A violin solo was played by Chester Davis and a violin duet by Chester Davis and Robert Mueller.

FOXES SHOW INCREASE AS HUNTING FALLS OFF

London—Application of the restrictions against fox hunting in certain portions of England because of outbreaks of foot and mouth disease among the horses, has resulted in a veritable scourge of foxes. Although the fox-hunting is in full swing, the Mynell, Pritchley, Bevoir, Cottemore and other hunts covering a wide area have been forced to suspend, and while farmers armed with guns have made heavy inroads on the foxes of these districts, it is estimated that there are now more foxes in England than for many years.

LADYBUG PROVES FRIEND IN NEED OF ORCHARDISTS

Los Angeles.—The little brown insect that for countless years has been the children of the country singing "Ladybug, ladybug, fly away home," now is free to follow this bit of juvenile advice.

The ladybug may turn its thoughts towards home because it has about completed its work in Southern California by wiping out the mealy bug, a citrus fruit pest, which for years has preyed on the orange orchards of this territory, according to citrus entomologists here.

The worst, a cocoon or scale insect, especially of the genus Aspidiotus, accumulates on the fruit trees forming a scale of flourlike substance.

Losses of fruit growers in Southern California through this pest ran into thousands of dollars. Through discoveries by entomologists, it was found that the ladybug proved the most successful foe of the pest. Ladybugs were introduced into orchards scoured with the bug. They did their work of extermination. Now they may have their holiday.

Appreciation of the work which has been done by the seven men who have commanded One Hundred and One of the American legion since its organization was expressed in the presentation to each of a past commander's gold badge at the monthly meeting in Elk hall Monday evening. The post voted to buy uniforms for its saxophone band and enjoyed a program of band music, wrestling and boxing.

Presentation of the badges was made by Ryan Duffy of Fond du Lac, former state legion commander and national vice commander. He gave them in the order of ascendancy of the commanders, beginning with Charles A. Green, founder of the post. The others who received them were Homer H. Benton, Charles C. Baker, Lothar G. Graef, Henry J. Pettigrew, L. Hugo Keller and J. N. Fischer.

BAND GIVES NUMBERS

A surprise was tendered the post in the visit of the 121st Field Artillery band. The musicians came in uniform, played a concert in the lower hall and then filed into the room. A program consisting of a large group of numbers was given following the business meeting. All members of Company D, 121st Infantry, also were present as guests of the post. They came in a body and were given a welcome with the band by Thomas Morrissey, post commander.

Entertainment also included a 5-minute wrestling exhibition and a sparring match of two rounds by athletes of Lawrence college.

Membership reports indicated that the total of active veterans on the list is near the 500 mark. One hundred thirty-three of these are men who joined this year for the first time and it is believed the grand total will exceed eight hundred when all renewals are in. The sale of blankets netted more than $1,300, the finance report showed.

INVITED TO NEINAH

The post was invited to take part in an indoor tug-of-war which Hawley post of Neenah is planning for Fox river valley legionnaires on April 17. The invitation was given by Frank J. Schneller, who was a guest at the post meeting. E. Ryan Duffy gave a talk explaining the endowment fund of $5,000,000 for support of orphans of former service men. The splendid care given at the veterans' hospital in Milwaukee was explained by Raymond Jaeger, who has been receiving treatment there.

A plea was made by V. J. Whelan, employment officer, for jobs for several veterans who are out of work. Officers were authorized to purchase specially made uniforms for the Legion saxophone band of more than 20 pieces. They are to be delivered in time for its benefit concert in March at Lawrence Memorial chapel. The uniforms will be blue, with gold trimming.

A dinner was given for the past commanders by the executive committee in the French room of Conway hotel preceding the meeting. Mr. Duffy and Mr. Schneller also were guests of honor.

Found guilty by a jury in municipal court Monday of fraudulently converting to his own use $549.93 of the funds of Beaulieu hill school district in Buchanan of which he was treasurer, Michael Glasheen will ask for a new trial.

Although he admitted taking the money for private use, he denied the charge of fraud since he intended to pay it back. He said he had frequently used school district money for his own use with the knowledge of other members of the board and paid the money back. That was his intention when he took the larger amount to stop a foreclosure on his farm, he said.

Sentence has not yet been passed, and Glasheen has been permitted to be at liberty under bonds until Feb. 24, when his attorneys, Ryan & Carey will argue the motion for a retrial.

PREDICT ANOTHER DECLINE IN ROAD BUILDING IN 1925

Less Concrete Highway Will Be Built This Year Than in 1924

The curve of highway construction and improvement in Wisconsin began a descent last year, and will descend more sharply in 1925 according to a chart compiled and issued by the Bureau of Public Roads and received at the office of the county highway commission.

During 1923, sums aggregating $22,000,000 were spent in state federal aid and state aid. Last year these expenditures decreased to $20,000,000, and in 1925 they will amount to $15,000,000 the chart shows.

Concrete mileage reached a record mark for the state in 1923, when 444 miles were laid. The highway funds of 1924 accounted for 273 miles of concrete, and 1,600 miles of gravel surfacing. The $15,000,000 to be spent this year will cover 125 miles of concrete and approximately 1,000 miles of gravel.

The down grade movement in highway construction is largely due to the fact that the group of 15 counties which in 1919 voted $37,000,000 for road building have spent $33,000,000 of this amount, most of it in concrete work. Bond issue construction in these counties in each of the years 1922 and 1923 amounted to $10,000,000; in 1924 to $4,500,000, while in 1925 it will run to $1,900,000. Brown county is in this group, voting $2,500,000 in 1919. The laying of seven miles of concrete this summer will complete the Brown county program planned at that time.

Federal and state funds played little part in highway construction during the last years. The average mileage of concrete federal aid built each year is 75 miles, a small amount compared to the mileage built by county bonds.

On or before June 30, 1927, Wisconsin must match $4,000,000 in federal aid if the state is to retain this special apportionment for road building. Wisconsin is now practically at the bottom of the list of states in matching available federal aid.

U. S. REWARDS VALOR IN ACTION NINE YEARS AFTER CAMPAIGN ENDED

Ralph R. Blessman, Appleton, who has served in Green Bay for a year as United States naval recruiting officer, is one of 20 men who have been decorated for bravery in the Dominican campaign in May 1916.

American sailors of the U. S. S. Culebra had been sent to San Domingo to protect the city against an uprising of the black natives. The white inhabitants were terror-struck and it became necessary to ask for assistance from the American mainland.

The Culebra suffered the summons, and in a few hours the ship was under military rule. Scouting parties routed the revolutionists from their hiding places in the hills and the city was freed of the black grip in which it had been held for several days.

The decoration is a bronze medal hung to a ribbon of crimson and a clasp bar. The medals have been awarded just nine years after the campaign.

Copies of the congressional record also will be kept on file.

TAXPAYERS CONFUSE TWO INCOME TAXES

Toonen Calls Attention to Exemptions Allowed by State and Federal Governments

Inquiries made daily at the office of Leo J. Toonen, assessor of incomes show that many taxpayers confuse the exemptions allowed by the state income tax law with the exemptions under the federal income tax.

The number of taxpayers making state income tax returns is much larger than those filing federal returns, since the federal exemptions are considerably higher.

According to latest federal ruling, no married men having an income less than $2,500 need to make a return, while under the state law persons with incomes as low as $900, if they are single, must file reports.

The following comparisons may be made of the exemptions allowed by the state and by the federal income tax: For a single person the personal exemption is $800 under the state income tax, and $1,000 under the federal tax. The same exemption of $800 applies to widows and widowers without children and to married persons living separately. The state exemption for husband and wife, if living together, is $1,200, while the federal exemption is $2,500 for a married person or head of a family.

Exemptions are allowed by both state and federal income tax laws for children and dependents. The state exemption is $200 for each child under 18 years and each additional person who is entirely dependent due to physical or mental conditions. The federal law allows an exemption of $400 for each child or dependent.

The state also makes this allowance: In case of a birth or death occurring during the year, the full exemption is allowed for the new-born or the deceased persons.

DAWES PLAN PROVED BALANCE WHEEL IN GERMANY'S CHAOS

Ingier Declares at Forum That France Has No Right to Cancel Her Debts

The Dawes plan, according to Prof. F. M. Ingier in his second speech on the reparations question before the Y. M. C. A. discussion forum Sunday afternoon, has two and only two purposes: To stabilize the money system of Germany and to balance the German budget. "By balancing the German budget," the speaker explained, "it meant that the German income should equal the expenses of running the German government."

Prof. Ingier's speech seemed to bear out the statement of Dr. H. E. Fogel that the statement of Dr. H. E. Fogel is no isolation as far as the United States is concerned. "For six years the French and Germans had been quibbling over their interests and purposes," he went on, "and there seemed to be no possible solution to the question without further war. The contribution of America at this time was a supply of business sense. The Dawes plan has had as its contributing principle the use of common business sense in a business proposition to exclusion of all politics. Because of the complicated financial and trade conditions in which the United States finds itself now in Europe, it will never cease to be a factor in the assisting of European problems. In the collection of the war's debts, we have ceased to be unofficial observers and have changed to real collectors."

He showed that France was not justified in her attitude that Germany must pay and pay at once. "France has continually urged that Germany pay and pay at once, while France has made no effort at all to adjust her claims for money borrowed during the World war. At the conclusion of the Revolutionary war, we owed France for goods, money borrowed, and for other supplies. We sought no cancellation. We refunded our French debt and paid it according to treaty arrangement. Nothing less can be asked of France at this time."

In reply to a question, the speaker concluded with the possibility of the united nations of the world joined with strong central power and with a military force sufficient to compel obedience to the central delegated power.

Judson G. Rosebush will speak on Present-day Labor Problems. ### THE BALL AND CHAIN

In business methods we are generations ahead of our ability to govern ourselves. So it has frequently been stated, and in a good many ways it is true. The public admits as much when it longs for more businesslike administration of government.

Business wants results. It has no use for precedent. Nor is it inclined to cling to the traditional just because it is ancient, except for advertising purposes—as when it gets profitable publicity from an old establishment or charming or sturdy quaintness of product.

Business discards the old as soon as it is convinced that the new will give better results. Government hesitates.

Take the matter of delivering goods. For thousands of years this was done by using the horse. In less than one generation, business has largely discarded the horse and replaced it by the motor truck.

The fact that George Washington used horses on his rich plantations does not make much of an impression on the modern business head who wants quick delivery and low cost.

There is a reason for everything. The reason we are not as progressive in politics or government as we are in the production and distribution of commodities is not hard to figure out.

Before a purchasing agent or production engineer will discard the old and install the new, the superiority of the new has to be demonstrated convincingly to him—in actuality, not just in oratory on theory. In this sense, there is nothing more conservative than a so-called progressive business man.

Then suppose a business man makes a mistake. Overnight he can discard the new and go back to using the old.

You cannot do that in a governmental system that is not flexible—where discarding is almost as slow as acquiring.

Government is shaped with an eye to lastingness, to many generations yet unborn. Business, despite its future plans, exists more for today.

But we might, at least, adopt in politics the mental attitude of open-mindedness that has put out business RESULTS centuries ahead of government results.

As a safeguard against calamitous changes, it is a good thing that our present functions of local government are not centralized and directed in unison from national headquarters. An individual community can try out a new theory while the thousands of other communities sit back and watch. Thus a mistake is local, not national.

THE REBELS' COIN

The mint at Philadelphia is engaged in one of the strangest operations in the world's history—the making of official national coins bearing a tribute to the bravery of a great army of rebels who attempted to destroy that nation.

There is only one way to explain the Stone Mountain memorial half dollars—and the rest of a world so recently at war will no doubt be at a loss to explain them. It is that the wounds of a great conflict are utterly healed over. Except for a few unreconstructed rebel batters who got up on their hind feet and spouted in congress, there was no opposition to the memorial "halves" worth mentioning.

The country as a whole is glad to let the south drink its cup of glory—the glory of a cause desperately and honestly fought to the end. We are all Americans. The blood of north and south has mingled far more in peace than it ever did in war. It would not be particularly pleasant, even if it were true, to think of the south as craven.

Indeed, the moral and political issues having disappeared, each side owes it to common pride to pay a graceful compliment now and then to the bravery of the other. That has become mutual property.

A NEGRO MILLIONAIRE

Often a single incident opens the door of revelation to a series of significant facts. There is the case, for instance, of Heman E. Perry.

If Mr. Perry, a Negro of Atlanta, Georgia, had not fallen into financial difficulties from which New York and Chicago white financiers have rescued him, very few people in America would have suspected that any member of the black race against the handicaps prevailing in the south had achieved the distinction of being not only a millionaire but a millionaire eight times over.

The fortune made by Perry was in life insurance, and the surprising fact develops that his company is one of thirty-five insuring Negroes only, and having a total of $500,000,000 insurance in force on the lives of 1,100,000 Negroes. Life insurance is a form of saving, indicating thrift and businesslike habits.

From life insurance Mr. Perry branched out into a number of other lines, with Negro boards of directors and employees—chain groceries and laundries, building associations and land development projects. The entrance of Negroes into business organizations of this type, when honestly controlled and properly run, is a promising sign of the race's capacity for self development. Financiers who are also friends of the Negro race saw to it that Mr. Perry's overenthusiasm along real estate lines, in which he invested too much ready money and involved all his undertakings in a threatened foreclosure, should not destroy the splendid work already done. They prevented the passing of these Negro enterprises, in which so much pride as well as money was invested, to white control.

Sane leadership, not of the Marcus Garvey type with its high flown titles and illusory promises, but of the sort with its feet on the ground and its ambitions along legitimate business lines is the great need of Heman Perry's race. He will hardly be disposed to repeat the error of placing himself in the power of money lenders. His saving was worth while.

POOR DISTRIBUTION

Russia is mining only 31 tons of coal for every 100 before the war. She is producing only 9 tons of pig iron for every 100 pre-war. These figures, which appear to be authentic notwithstanding that they deal with Russia, are from the Russian newspaper Rul.

Russia is an agricultural rather than a manufacturing nation. So more illuminating, as to her general condition, is the U. S. Department of Agriculture's estimate that Russia's 1924 crops total 46 million tons of grain. That is enough to feed her—if properly distributed which is unlikely in view of her broken-down transportation system and general economic machine.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

GREETINGS.

I SEZ to a friend of mine, sez I, "And how do you feel today?" He looked me over with a half closed eye and his answer ran this way: "I'm feelin' tip as top can be, and I'm flowin' over with pep. The world can't get away from me, 'cause I always keep in step." I don't know what it is to town and I have no time to fret. I do smile, gaze right on brown. It's the safest kind of bet.

"I met a man with an out stretched hand and I greet him 'Hi, there, party.' I try to make folks understand that I'm always hale and hearty. A man in need of friends, ya know, and I'm always glad to take 'em. This cheerful plan is far from slow. It's the proper way to make 'em."

And then my friend just shook his mitt, "In the war that he'd expected. And when he'd 'nally losted it, he was the blamed thing really pined. But he also shook his inner thought, and he didn't want a new life. His cheerful spirit quickly caught—so I'm feeling cheerful too."

Romance is not dead. It is just a trifle dizzy, from watching the other emotions move so fast.

It is often hard to see how some people live the way they do until you feel inclined to act that way yourself.

While an operation is painful it may improve your health. The same is true of cutting out a bad habit.

A conservative is a man who is either wise or a coward, all according to whether you are conservative or not.

Being afraid to live is often called prudence.

Absence frequently has a tendency to make the appetite grow stronger.

Human nature is what makes life worth living.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Dr. Rex L. Dively, Kansas City orthopedic surgeon reports that 49 of the 148 cases of anterior poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) he studied in the epidemic in Kansas last summer and autumn occurred in Topeka. The remaining 99 cases radiated out from Topeka along the main highways. This suggests how infantile paralysis is spread.

Ninety-three of the 143 cases were in males, 55 were in females. Most of the cases occurred in August.

Eleven patients were under a year old; 13 were under 2 years old; 22 were 3 years old, seven 4 years, 11 5 years, nine 6 years; and so on up to the age of 15, two patients; between 15 and 25 years 22 patients, and between 25 and 40 years of age, nine patients.

The death rate was 8.7 per cent. High fever was noted the first day in 90 per cent of cases, stomach and intestinal upset the first day in 75 per cent of cases; severe headache in 55 per cent, usually on the first day; pain and stiffness in the back of the neck in 54 per cent of the cases, but generally not until the second or third day of illness, general muscular soreness in 48 per cent of cases, but not until the third, fourth or fifth day of illness; sore throat in 20 percent of cases, usually the first or second day of illness.

The acute illness, the fever stage, lasted from six to ten days, as a rule, only two or three days in some cases, and as long as three weeks in one case. In only one case reported in this epidemic did the paralysis occur without this preliminary fever stage.

Paralysis was first noticed, generally, after from three to five days of the feverish illness. The paralysis affected the whole body in over half the cases, starting generally in the legs.

The legs only were paralyzed in 27 per cent of cases. Both legs 13 per cent and only one leg in 7 percent of cases.

The upper extremities alone were paralyzed in 6 per cent of cases. An arm and a leg on the same side were affected in 11 per cent of cases.

After a year of treatment the results were complete recovery in 21 per cent of cases, good recovery in 22 per cent, fair recovery in 37 per cent and slight recovery in 10 per cent of the cases treated. Proper treatment was not had in all cases, and no treatment at all in 26 per cent. Good treatment was given 26 per cent of the cases, and only fair treatment in 48 per cent.

Dr. Dively says that there probably exist, during an epidemic, definite poliomyelitis carriers. He has records of persons in several communities who visited various families in which poliomyelitis soon afterward developed, a visitor being the only possible source of infection. He believes most persons in the community where poliomyelitis is epidemic, have the disease in light abortive form, for in nearly all records "colds," sniffles or sore throat were reported in most of the other members of the immediate family of the patient. It seems to Dr. Dively that the disease is selective to certain individuals, and so perhaps one individual in a whole infected family shows paralysis.

Moral: When infantile paralysis is about, beware of the gossip who comes to pay you a visit with the cry—which is any common respiratory infection alleged to be a "slight cold."

Don't Monkey With Diet.

Please inform me if I should eat foods containing acids such as tomatoes, apples, lemons, grapefruit, oranges and the like. I believe I am suffering from hyperacidity in the stomach. (L. M.)

Answer—The acid of tomatoes, apples, lemons, grapefruit and oranges, are unlike mineral acids such as the hydrochloric (muriatic) acid of the stomach. They are absorbed and oxidized in the blood, into carbonates, which tend to increase alkalinity and oppose acidity. It may be, however, that any one or more of these wholesome articles of food is unsuitable for your particular trouble. I should advise you not to monkey with your diet on your own notions, but to be guided by the instructions your physician gives you.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

Tuesday, Feb. 6, 1900.

John A. Brill, proprietor of the Northwestern house, gave a skat tournament that evening.

Members of the West End Literary club surprised Humphrey Pierce last night in honor of his birthday anniversary. Members met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thom and then went to the Pierce home, attired in awful looking costumes. House orchestra appeared later to furnish music for dancing.

Lambert Helnitz, one of the oldest members of the Third ward, died last night from paralysis.

W. H. Rogers and R. C. Wolter were among the Appleton business men who were promoting the establishment of a canning factory here. The proposed plan was to have a capacity of 30,000 cans of corn and tomatoes daily and was to employ 125 to 200 men.

The O. P. B.'s gave a banquet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hawes last night in honor of the birthday anniversary of C. L. Marston.

An epidemic in the form of grip which had broken out in several Wisconsin cities, was feared here.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Tuesday, Feb. 2, 1915.

Because the ground had failed to see his shadow when he came out of his winter boudoir this morning, an early spring was predicted.

Karl Schuetter left this morning for Milwaukee to attend the convention of the International Custom Tailors association.

Municipal Judge Thomas H. Ryan definitely announced that he would not be a candidate for reelection to the office he now holds at the coming spring election.

A new ungraded department has been added to the Appleton school system to assist the more backward students. Miss Maud Cole of Racine was placed in charge.

Appleton was digging itself out after a blizzard of 36 hours' duration, which practically isolated this city from the rest of the world. Telephone and telegraph communications were practically cut off because of the high winds.

Railroads announced an increase in passenger rates effective March 1 from two cents to two and a half cents a mile.

Declaring the county primary to select a candidate for the office of circuit judge a disgraceful, Judge John Goodland declared he would not be a participant.

Being sure you are right before going ahead would be better advice if you could ever be sure of anything.

The past is gone. And we would have used up no more time in doing as we should than we have in doing as we shouldn't.

HELP WANTED

When a student graduates from a business college, they give him the correspondence that look place between a jobseeker and an employer in Louisiana. They hesitate to show it any earlier for fear the student may become discouraged. It is about an "office position advertised in the Help Wanted Column. After replying to the advertisement the applicant learns that it is a clerical job paying $50 to $80 a month. This bit of information is thrown in: A married man can support a small family in New Orleans at $40 a month. The duties are many in addition to sweeping and dusting the office, hitching a pony to the cart and driving to town twice daily for mail.

The applicant hastened to describe his qualifications more minutely: "I am 42 years old—have had 23 years active business experience being connected with the British embassy at Madagascar.... I am not only an expert biographer, linguist, expert telegraphist and erudite college graduate but have several other accomplishments which make me desirable."

"The light duties which you enumerate in the capacity of stenographer and indexing clerk, mimeograph operator, stable boy and office porter would not, I'm afraid, keep me busy, and would not be enough to keep me from getting homesick. I am an expert snow-shoveler, first class peanut roaster, have some knowledge of removing superfluous hair and have a medal for reciting 'Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight.' I am a skillful chiropractor, a practical farmer, can cook, take care of horses, grease trousers, open oysters, repair umbrellas, cane chairs and am also the champion plug tobacco chomper in Louisiana. My sitting record is 38½ feet. Besides possessing of great physical beauty, I would not only be useful but ornamental as well. My whiskers can be utilized as a pen wiper and feather duster. I can after office hours take care of the children and prepare them for bed, and having the use of the pony cart, could act as dog catcher on my way to the post office."

"As to my salary, I feel that I would be robbing the widow and orphans, if I were to take advantage of your magnificent offer of $50 a month, when my expenses as a married man would be but $40, and would be willing therefore to give you my services for $45, thereby giving you an opportunity of not only increasing your donation to the church, but also enable you to endow a bed to the Dogs home."

Louis Luebko says he can get just as much fun out of those strange noises at the Army as from the static in radio.

Cy Tizon can't see why they "don't hold the poultry show early in November instead of in January. They butcher most of the flock for Thanksgiving and Christmas and show us what's left."

At a penny social given by an Appleton church last week a poster displayed the message "Don't wait until Feb. 2. See us ground hog in side." Yes, this hog was the kind without the wraps.

ROLLO

U.S. Leads Exit Of Old Type Envoy

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—The recent announcement of the resignation from the state department of Charles E. Hughes, who has had charge of the foreign relations of the United States since March 4, 1921, came as a climax to a period of violent upheaval and frequent turnover in the personnel of the diplomatic corps in Washington.

In the period of less than four years that he has been in office secretary of State Hughes has seen more ambassadors and ministers come and go than any other American secretary of State before him, in the same length of time.

It is also a fact that during this period of changes and fluctuations, the great majority of the 51 powers that normally maintain diplomatic relations with this country have repeatedly changed their foreign ministers just as they changed their representatives in Washington. Some of the major powers have had four and five foreign secretaries since Mr. Hughes took the helm at the state department. So that at the time of his resignation he represented the greatest single factor in the continuity of international relations.

OLD DIPLOMATS OUT

Apart from the frequent changes in the diplomatic corps in Washington in recent years, the period was marked by two far-reaching departures in foreign relations. In the first place, a great deal of international business is no longer handled by the diplomatic representatives of the powers. The World War brought the special mission to the fore and it was found so satisfactory that the custom was continued. It may be said in fact that the area of special missions engaged in diplomatic business has arrived.

In the second place the various countries have taken to the practice of sending business men as diplomats to Washington. A considerable number of the foreign representatives here today are not men who were trained in and grew up in the old school of diplomacy but men who received their training and experience in the school of big business and industry. The new school threatens to supplant the old one.

A cursory review of international relations in the last few years will disclose the extent to which the special mission has been used as a diplomatic agency. Secretary of State Hughes encouraged the practice and helped in its evolution.

SHOWED THEIR POWER

It has been in fact who sponsored and planned the most important mission of all, the sending of American representatives to the reparations conference Mr. Hughes conceived the plan of sending three prominent business men to represent the American viewpoint in the conference of the powers on the most important question left outstanding by the World War.

Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, and his associates, one of them being Owen D. Young, president of the General Electric company, and the other a prominent California banker, went as private citizens but how closely their work was intertwined with the diplomacy of the United States received its crowning proof in the recent allocation by the Paris conference of the United States share in reparations. The special mission made possible what was well nigh despair of.

Practically all the negotiations for the funding of indebtedness of the powers of this country were conducted through this medium. It was found more satisfactory to send men specially qualified to discuss settlements on the nature of which billions of dollars and the very solvency of nations hinged. Diplomatic red tape was ripped away and many meetings between these missions and American officials resembled a meeting of directors of a joint stock company engaged in a desperate effort to keep out of the hands of a receiver.

All that was left for the ambassador or the minister was to touch the settlement in diplomatic terms and affix the "great seal" on behalf of "his majesty" or "my government," as the case might be.

Society Watches Lively Fifth-Ave

(J. George Frederick, in Current History Magazine.)

The Fifth Avenue association is one of the most interesting civic societies in New York. Among many other activities the association maintains an anti-nuisance committee of 15 members, who have taken the oath of service in the city's sanitary reserve, and wear badges of authority which enable them to act peremptorily in their vigilance work of protecting Fifth Ave.

They endeavor, in their task of guarding this famous street, to eliminate uncovered refuse receptacles, the dropping of waste matter, expectoration on the sidewalks, unnecessary smoke from buildings and motor cars and other nuisances. They discourage and prevent signs, bill posting, noises, trucking and sidewalk shipping abuses and loitering. Executives from the association make inspections every day, both day and night, to keep the avenue up to these preciously maintained standards.

In addition, the association makes ample preparations in advance for especially prompt snow removal. That is why Fifth Ave is more effective and immediately cleared of snow than almost any street in New York.

Many relics of the bronze age and of the period of the Roman occupation have been brought to light by excavations at Stonehenge, in England.

ned away and many meetings between these missions and American officials resembled a meeting of directors of a joint stock company engaged in a desperate effort to keep out of the hands of a receiver.

All that was left for the ambassador or the minister was to touch the settlement in diplomatic terms and affix the "great seal" on behalf of "his majesty" or "my government," as the case might be.

LAW WHICH BARS
WOMEN AS PATRONSMayor Pronto of Waupaca, Will Lead Fight to Prevent Bill's Passage

New London—East Central Wisconsin Barbers association will fight the bill before the state legislature which would prohibit male barbers from doing work for female patrons, or for children under ten years of age, according to a decision reached at the tri-monthly meeting at the city hall here Monday evening.

Barbers argue that a law of this kind would force its class of patrons to go to beauty parlors and would cut a huge slice out of the barbers' regular list of customers.

This law would be impossible to enforce in the great majority of towns and country villages where beauty parlors are unheard of, the barbers declared. Patrons in such places would be obliged to go to some large city to have their hair cut.

Mayor Pronto, of Waupaca, was delegated to go to Madison representing the association to fight the bill when it comes up, as all barbers' association in the state are uniting to fight the measure. In case Mr. Pronto is unable to go, his assistant, Charles Rogers of this city, will take his place. Petition are being circulated throughout the state, to obtain signatures and present them to the legislature.

Several new members were accepted into the organization and the treasurer's report read.

The next meeting will be held at Waupaca city hall, on the first Monday in May.

Be Well

A gland extract
may provide the way

The greatest helps in modern medicine come through treating glands. Many things are being done which never were done before.

The greatest gland is the liver. Ox gall is now used to make it active. And to many of people this gland method may mean new health, new youth.

It Ends Poisons
You think perhaps, that torpid liver means merely constipation. It means far more.

The liver supplies bile—a quart a day at normal. That bile checks intestinal germs.

When the bile is scant, the germs multiply by millions. They supply the blood a constant stream of poisons. Then come the results of impure blood—sallow complexion, pimples, dull eyes, falling hair.

But there are worse results. Heart and kidney troubles often result; high blood pressure, premature old age. Hardly a person who reads this could not be benefited by an active liver.

Employ the New Way
Drugs cannot stimulate the liver. The drugs you take for that are mere cathartics.

A torpid liver calls for ox gall. You owe to yourself a test. The results are prompt. They are usually amazing. You may find in this simple treatment just the help you need.

But get genuine ox gall. It comes in tablets called Dioxol. Each contains ten drops of purified ox gall. There you get the utmost results.

Remember the name—Dioxol. Your druggist can supply you. Before another day goes by, learn what this new way does.

Guarantee: Anyone not satisfied with results from the first box of Dioxol may return the empty box to the makers and receive his money back.

STUDENTS ENTER
SPEECH CONTESTS

New London—All high school students wishing to take part in the public speaking contests of the school this year, oratory, declamation and extemporaneous, have been asked to enter their names in the register at the high school office.

The tryouts will be held in the near future. All students taking part will be assigned to high school teachers for coaching.

New London has been placed in a league this year with three other schools, Kaukauna, Clintonville and Menasha. The winners in each high school will go into this league contest, which will be held at one of these four cities, not later than April 24, 1925. The winners of this league contest will go into a sub-district contest and then to the district meet, which will be held at Oshkosh some time in the spring.

The extemporaneous speaking is a new thing in most of the state high school contests this year. There will be no extemporaneous contests at either the league or sub-district contests, but only at the district contest at Oshkosh.

Three Generations Kept
Healthy and Happy

"Beecham's Pills were always considered indispensable by my parents during thirty years of married life and I am never without them in my home, as they are used when required by myself (aged sixty-one), and wife and children. This covers a period of over eighty years.

My wife and sons also believe there is no remedy for constipation and biliousness equal to Beecham's Pills.

Somanyso-called "cures" for biliousness and kindred troubles leave after effects that are certainly injurious, but Beecham's Pills give prompt relief and leave one in a healthy and happy condition."

INVITE SCHOOLS TO ENTER EXHIBITS IN MIDWINTER FAIR

Schools and Individuals Will Compete for Prizes at Annual Exhibition

Kaukauna—City and rural schools in and about Kaukauna are being invited to take booths and provide exhibits for the second annual midwinter fair which takes place Thursday and Friday, Feb. 19 and 20. W. P. Hagman, chairman of the school exhibits committee, is sending letters giving information regarding the event.

School teachers who are interested in offering the work of their schools have been requested to notify Mr. Hagman at the Outagamie Rural School as soon as possible. On account of the number who will enter, displays will be in uniform booths. The larger schools will have booths four feet wide, four feet high and about 14 feet long, making about 130 square feet of wall surface. Teachers should plan to bring only enough material to make an attractive display. Smaller schools will have about one half the space.

Prizes will be awarded to the school furnishing the best exhibit; and to the children exhibiting the best handiwork. Entry tags will be furnished for articles entered for premiums. Prizes for the booths will range from $5 to $15.

All exhibits must be entered with the committee before noon on Thursday and removed on Saturday. There will be no entry fees. Only one entry can be made by a child in any one class although the same child may enter in more than one exhibit in his grade.

To date seven rural school teachers have made arrangements to have booths. In addition St. Mary and Holy Cross parochial schools of this city and the state graded school of Combined Locks have registered. All the other schools in Kaukauna undoubtedly will prepare booths.

The following entries will be open to children: Mounted map of the school district, showing farms, silos, pure bred sties, running water and electric lights; booklet on dairying; poster showing food values of dairy products; plain aprons and house dresses; sample darning; toy of any design; large and small bird houses; footstools; benches; rope splicing and rope halters; drawings of farm animals, persons, comic designs, fruit, flowers, cover designs; health posters, and food posters. Prizes of 25, 50, 10 and 15 cents will be awarded in each competition. The prizes are made purposely small so that a large number can be given.

Prizes will be awarded to children of the third and fourth grades in the same amounts as above for clay modeling, health poster, food poster, collection of leaves mounted and named, corn husk mat, set of doll clothes, poster showing the child's idea of the arrangement of the buildings and general outline of model human premises, business letter and address of envelope, product map of Wisconsin, drawings of fruit or flowers.

McTangle

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO RUTH BURKE, CONTINUED

You, dear Ruth, have probably gone over all this phase of married life from another angle, yet it could not seem so terribly bad to you, for at least you have married again. You deserve everything now that life can give to you, and I sincerely hope you will have it.

You were not such a baby about it all as I have been. You kept all your unhappiness to yourself. I remember the only time you ever said anything to me about Harry was the time he went into the restaurant with that woman he ran away with finally. It was the beginning of the end, wasn't it?

Isn't it strange, dear, that we never know just when the beginning of the end begins? Perhaps it's just as well. You would have been even more unhappy than you were if you had known it then.

Another one of my problems just now is Alice. You remember I told you Karl wanted me to write her an invitation to come home. I can't do that, but I am going to have mother do it. I do not feel I can ever be the same to Alice. If she were not my sister I am certain I should never speak to her again. In fact, I should not do so anyway if it were not for mother and father. I am not sure whether I want her to come back before John goes. He will say something to her that will precipitate a terrible quarrel, yet I wish Alice could be made to tell John all about the pearls I think, then, everything would be all right, as far as those troublesome old beads are concerned.

Of course there is still the shop, the dear little lingerie shop that has given us so much joy. What are we going to do with that? However, we can let that wait until I get home.

I've taken up this entire letter with telling you my troubles, yet I haven't spoken to you of the most terrible one of all, the thing that hangs over me like a wall and keeps me from looking at any other troubles with any degree of sanity for in all these other troubles I am banking on time. He is such a beneficial old fellow he usually brings things out all right in the end; but

YOU POOR KID, WHY ARE YOU SO SKINNY?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

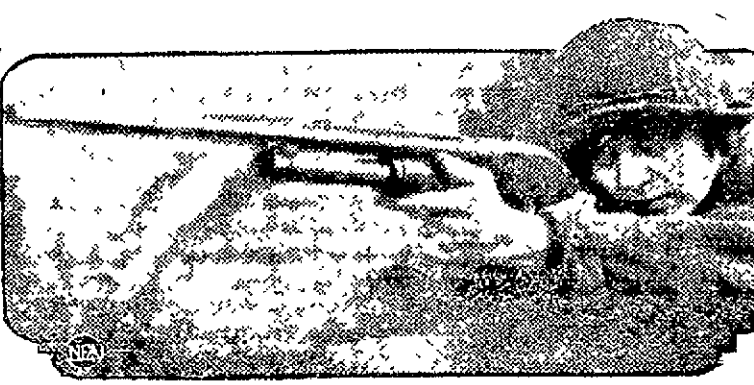

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset your delicate stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are chock-full of vitamins and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 17 months. She must ask Schlitz Brothers, Downer's Drug Store or any good druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets—60 cents—as pleasant to take as candy.

DEFEATS MEN IN TRAPSHOOTING

Mrs. J. C. Wright of Atlanta, Ga., who in a trapshooting contest held in her home town, defeated a large field of male competitors.

once in a while even he cannot make the two ends match, particularly if one makes a mistake in making up one's account of debt and credit.

I said something of this kind to dad the other day, and he told me a story of an old man who kept a general store in the place where he was born, who kept his accounts in a unique way and never answered any letters. At last his affairs got in such shape that he had to call in an expert who brought him to task for it and explained to him that was the reason his affairs were mixed up.

He said he didn't think that was possible, for he had found through a long life that if you kept letters long enough very few of them needed an answer. It was only another way of saying, my dear, that if one just has patience. Time will give you the right perspective on all things.

In looking over the man's accounts, the expert accountant brought him up short one day because in going over his books he had found a man's name and nothing beside it except a great, round O. "What is this?" he asked.

After looking at it a few moments, the man said: "Mr. Blank owes me a cheese."

A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPIATES

Many cough preparations contain some one or more harmful drugs which are added to take the place of opiates. None of these narcotic substitutes have ever been used in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. The name of every ingredient is plainly printed on every carton. You know what you are taking when you take Foley's. It clings to the throat. Good for old and young. You have a cough, why not try it. Refuse substitutes. Sold everywhere. adv.

COST OF LESSONS HAMPERS MUSICAL STUDENTS OF U. S.

Composer Says Expense of Engaging Teachers is Handicap in America

By Associated Press

Frankford—Native musicians will never have a fair opportunity in the United States until the cost of musical education is reduced in America, according to Simon Buchartoff, the Chicago composer who is in Germany arranging for the production of his new grand opera, "Sakabra."

We should have government and city support for music schools and opera houses in the United States," said Mr. Buchartoff. "and I believe such public spirited citizens as General Daves will eventually bring about the establishment of schools of that character, where poor, but talented, young Americans may get thorough musical education at small cost. A school, such as the Berlin Musical High School, would be a boon to hundreds of young Americans who are struggling to become artists."

In the Berlin school German pupils have tuition for about $50 a year, and foreigners pay about twice that amount. Only youngsters who are well-rounded in music are taken and the course in the school is ordinarily three years. Most of the pupils have had at least five years of training before they enter the Berlin school.

"Think of the difference in cost for students in Germany and America. Skilled teachers in the United States charged advanced pupils $10, $20 or even $50 a lesson. When one considers that most really gifted pupils in the United States cannot afford to pay even $2 a lesson and are often earning all their educational funds it is little wonder that American students become discouraged. We can educate our American singers and musicians in the United States better than it can be done here, and by so doing we can lay the foundations for a real American type of music and divorce ourselves from European standards."

"We can get all the European teachers we need in America and create schools just as good as the government maintains in Germany or any other European country."

Thursday, Feb. 12, will be observed as patrons day in all schools of the county system. Parents of pupils and others interested in school work will be asked to attend on that day in order to familiarize themselves with the quality and progress of school work. Instead of the school entertainment programs which usually featured patrons days in the past, the sessions will be devoted to actual school routine. The program will, however, be modified in some degree to bring out subjects that will be of outstanding interest to the visitors. Teachers in general will choose this day as the one for launching parent-teacher's associations in each district of the county.

the precipitous bank that edged the road, and smiled bravely when Director Smith asked if she were ready. The stunt driver did make it thrilling. The working staff stood breathless as the car wound its way, back and forth, with increasing speed up the side of the mountain. It seemed impossible for the car to complete the run without going off the grade at some of the sharp curves. Miss DuBrey was a trifle pale on her return, but ready for a retake if necessary.

"IF I MARRY AGAIN" HAS FIVE-STAR CAST
New Heart Drama at the Elite Scores Tremendous Success

An interesting picture, with a variety of appeal that is sure to make it popular with all types of movie fans, was shown for the first time yesterday at the Elite theatre. It is "If I Marry Again" and it will be the feature attraction at the Elite for today and Wednesday.

The leading roles—that of the daughter of Margot, whose devotion and fidelity disappates the bad name that society has cast upon her—is played by Doris Kenyon. This young actress, whose career has been divided between the stage and the screen, will now devote herself entirely to motion picture work, and her ability as displayed in "If I Marry Again" seems to indicate that she is destined to become one of the most popular of present day stars.

Five prominent players are seen in supporting roles. Frank Mayo is seen as the misunderstood husband, and Lloyd Hughes is the son who marries against his father's wishes. Robert Bowdoin plays the father, and Anna Q. Nilsson, Myrtle Stedman and Baby Dorothy Brock are also seen in important roles. John Francis Dillon, who directed "Flaming Youth" and "Lilies of the Field," is responsible for the direction of "If I Marry Again," which is an adaptation of the Metropolitan Magazine story by Gilbert Frankau.

STAGE And SCREEN

THE FLAPPERS OF FRANZ SCHUBERT'S DAY

The most frequent comment of younger theatre goers on witnessing and hearing "Blossom Time," which comes to the Appleton theatre on March 11 has been to the effect that "there were flappers even in Franz Schubert's day." Of course, older theatregoers know that the flapper element has existed, in one guise or another in every generation, but the up-to-date sub-debs, when, on consulting their program they have discovered that the scenes and costumes of "Blossom Time" are of the 1836 period, seemed surprised to learn their actions were not novel.

Surely Mitzl, Kitzl and Fritzl, of this operetta, are scarcely "behind" their present-day prototypes. In the scenes of their flirtation in Prater park, and later, during the wedding festivities in their old-time Viennese home, they reveal a precocity in feminine allurement which could hand the proverbial "cards and spades" to the younger of the restless sex as we study it in these times.

The famous "Blossom Time" is now in its fifth season of nation-wide triumph. Men of the larger cities have seen it as often as four times, in countless cities it has returned for its third engagement, and practically every town and hamlet in the country has seen it twice, or will have before the end of the current season.

THRILLS IN FILMS ARE REAL THRILLS FOR PICTURE PLAYERS

Claire DuBrey, who plays "Fleur-de-lis" in "Borrowed Husband," which will be shown at The New Bijou theatre today and Wednesday, said that talk regarding the ease and pleasure in motion picture work is sheer nonsense. She had just returned from her ride up Lookout Mountain in the episode preceding the fall of her auto over a cliff.

Lookout Mountain Road is a "concrete" road, zigzagging its way up the side of a mountain in the Coast Range. So precipitous is the slope that it was impossible to build more than a one-way road. So once started, there is no turning back, you must go to the top and down by another road.

The studio had engaged an automobile stunt man to act as chauffeur, and he was told to make it thrilling. Miss DuBrey took her seat in the car, looked over the side and down

TENTH TEAM STARTS AFTER $1,000 CITIES PRIZE

MUNICIPAL RULE COMMITTEE GETS SCORING ORDERS

All Departments in Contest Now Are Functioning for a Better Appleton

Appleton has entered 100 per cent into the better cities contest of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work with the arrival here of the scoring schedules for the public administration department. These were the first to be issued from the headquarters at Madison.

George T. Richard, chairman of this committee is endeavoring to make up for lost time in getting his activities under way.

The committee consists of Mr. Pritchard and R. M. Connelly, city engineer, Alfred C. Bossert, city attorney, George T. Prim, police chief, and George P. McGilgan, fire chief.

Chief Prim heads the section dealing with public safety and Chief McGilgan that of fire prevention.

Only those aspects of municipal government are included in this department which actually are a part of the machinery of government.

Education, recreation, health and such departments are treated by separate committees in the contest.

ALLOW 1,000 POINTS
One thousand points can be scored in the contest for the $1,000 prize by the city having the best public administration. There are six subdivisions and a designated number of points which can be obtained in each.

They are: Form of municipal government 190, public works and utilities, 160, judicial system 65, public safety 270, city engineering department 90, and miscellaneous 125.

The city which has the form of government best suited to its needs gets the largest score. Careful budgeting of funds, a definite plan for financing public improvements, business methods and expert accounting in city affairs and an organized public opinion are the essentials listed in this group.

Under the heading of public works and utilities consideration is given to efficient street construction and maintenance, an adequate sewer system including a proper storm outlet, substantial and sufficient public buildings and public ownership of service utilities.

A purchasing agent and storehouse for city supplies, efficient numbering and naming of streets and street signs also help the score.

Juvenile court, child welfare board and facilities for handling court cases quickly are the principal sources of score in the judicial section.

MUCH STRESS ON SAFETY
Public safety includes police and fire departments under one scoring list. Satisfactory equipment and an adequate number of men help to win a good standing and fire prevention work counts for a liberal amount.

Organization of the police department so the men are stimulated to do good work is one of the essentials and stress is laid on a school of public instruction, use of a policeman, crime prevention measures, efficient handling of traffic, safety campaigns and cooperation with other city departments.

Other factors mentioned are a system for rehabilitating delinquents and vagrants, a pension fund for police and firemen, cooperation with the sheriff's department and a sanitary city jail. The personnel of the department also scores, as well as its accomplishments during the year of the contest.

Electrical, plumbing, building, zoning, sewer and paving construction inspections are among the scoring features in the city engineering department.

Further scores can be obtained in the miscellaneous section if the public administration takes an active part in creating and organizing public opinion for home ownership, better standards of living, education, wholesome recreation and satisfactory industrial relations.

Lectures, open forums and debates on current topics of municipal interest by the city officials also are stressed. Close cooperation of the council with other city boards and departments adds to the score.

U. S. May Establish Airmail Route From New York To Panama Canal

BY LARRY BOARDMAN

Washington — Plans are under way to establish an army-postal airway from the United States to Panama.

Its purpose would be closer communication with the Canal Zone and expediting mail to and from South America.

There is but one real obstacle in the way—obtaining Mexico's permission to make landings along the route—and this should not be difficult to surmount.

Flying relations between the United States and Mexico are extremely friendly. The Mexican government recently purchased several U. S. planes and is now engaged in training aviators.

If the Panama airway materializes arrangements may be made to carry Mexican flyers over the Mexican section of the route. They may even be allowed to operate the planes.

Army air service now has an airway from Bolling Field, Washington—to which comes planes from Mitchell Field, New York, and Langley Field, Virginia—to San Antonio, Tex. This is traversed each week with a junction point at Scott Field, near St. Louis.

WOULD BE EXTENDED
According to present plans this route would be extended from San Antonio to Laredo or San Benito, Tex., and thence to Panama, with landings at two or three convenient Mexican way points. The flight from San Antonio to Panama would take less than two days.

The project has been investigated by the Postoffice Department, but the investigation showed a prospective volume of mail insufficient to justify a separate airmail service line, even though legislation authorizing it could be obtained. It would not be a money making proposition.

To offset this, it is considered most desirable to expedite South American mail service and thus promote closer and more friendly relations with the Latin-American countries.

Carrying South American mail as far as Panama by plane would cut several days of the present schedule.

ARMY IS ANXIOUS
Thus, while the Postoffice Department might be unwilling to undergo the entire expense of operating a Panama airway, it would look with favor upon cooperating in the project with the army.

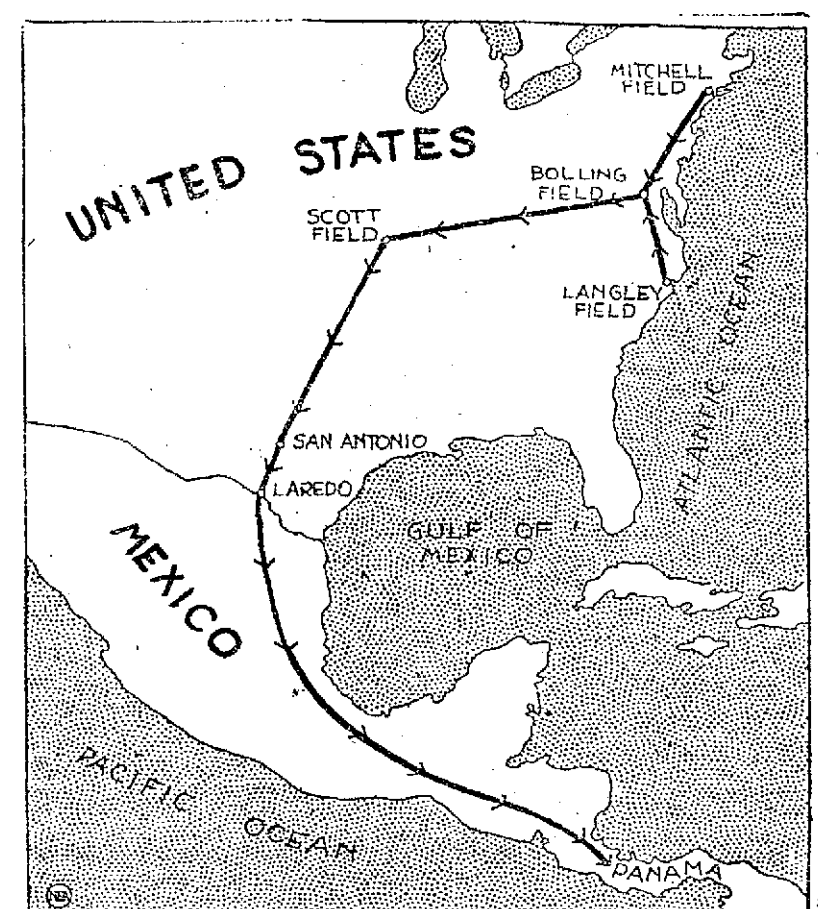

With army flying facilities already established, financial return from a Panama airmail service would not have to be so great to make it practical.

The army is naturally anxious to extend its present airway system and to keep in close touch with its Canal Zone units.

If the pending negotiations with Mexico are successful—and there is every reason to believe they will be—the Panama air line may become a reality in the near future.

Another air service project now pending is a South American "friendly relations" tour.

The plan is to send a squadron of army planes on a flight somewhat similar to the cruise of the battle fleet under Admiral Halsey Evans, in President Roosevelt's time.

CHINESE WATCHING U. S. CLOSELY, STUDENTS TOLD

Miss Marion Neprud of LaCrosse, representing the National League of Women Voters, addressed Lawrence students in chapel in Monday morning. Miss Neprud is working in the middle western states as representative of the organization.

Miss Neprud pointed out that the Far East is watching the United States very closely and its following America's example even in small matter, and wants to learn its ways. "The Chinese know more about us than we know of them," she declared. Any action America takes in relation to the place women hold in our political system is of utmost importance to China, she said.

BEG PARDON

A daughter, not a son, as was stated in Monday's Post-Crescent, was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. George Benzschew, 1230 S. Oneida-st.

L. George Sorenson, 531 E. Atlantic-st, owner of a car which figured in a collision at the corner of E. Wisconsin-ave and N. Morrison-st. on Monday morning declared the account of the accident in Monday's Post-Crescent was in error. He said that Henry R. Kern, driver of one of the machines, crashed into the Sorenson car, driven by Rudolph Fischer, N. Morrison-st. forcing it against a pole and injuring Mr. Fischer. He said Fischer had the right-of-way and that Kern struck the car after it was half way across the intersection.

SPIRIT TELLS HIM TO RETAIN HOUSE

East Hampton, Conn.—There are bonds beyond earth and man to tie Herb Lyman to the "lonesome house on Hampton hill."

And there is a voice from beyond the grave to whisper into court records which, ordinarily have small patience with the supernatural, and would not now were it anyone but "honest Herb."

Also, there is the back door at which approaching death was said to announce its coming with three somber raps—

And the dog that went blind just before the death of Mrs. Phoebe Simons, mistress of the house on Hampton Hill—the dog that went blind but goaded his way to his mistress' coffin and jumped in, trying to be buried with her—

And the weird green light that passing farmers saw in the window on the nights that Phoebe Simons was said to come back from the "other side."

So it is small wonder that the quiet farm folk of the East Hampton country shake their heads when the law steps in to oust Herb Lyman from the "lonesome house" and say in hushed voices: "Best not to meddle in things we don't know much about. Something's queer about all this and Herb is a God-fearing man."

LITTLE JOE

A PHONE BOOK IS THE PLACE TO FIND THE NUMBER YOU'RE NOT GOING TO GET WHEN YOU ASK FOR IT—

Yet here in this cross-roads hamlet, tucked away from the world, the law has stepped in, and there is such commotion as the countryside has never known before. A new justice has been sworn in and six men will sit with him in deciding whether Herb Lyman is to be dispossessed from the Simons house which he had come to consider his home and where, he says, the shade of Phoebe Simons has returned to chat with him and

Over One Hundred Different Ways of Cooking Meat

It is equally as important that our diet be sufficiently varied as it is that its parts be wholesome and well-balanced. Variety in food assists the hunger impulse—it stimulates the appetite.

It is true, however, that most cooks find it difficult to vary the meat courses. They prepare and serve, over and over again, the five or six meat dishes that have become standard in the family menu.

And it is to these housewives that the new meat booklet will prove especially interesting. Besides giving over one hundred recipes it tells how to select meat cuts, gives general rules for the cooking of meat, contains charts showing the various cuts of beef, veal, pork and lamb, and a time and temperature table.

Send two cents in stamps to cover return postage on your copy.

Don't—Girls

Don't neglect your hair! By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is luxuriant, thick and lustrous. It is finer far than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Today, at my age, it remains my greatest glory.

The reason is this: Years ago I consulted great experts on the hair and scalp. They made for me what they considered the utmost in hair help. They have since added to it every better discovery.

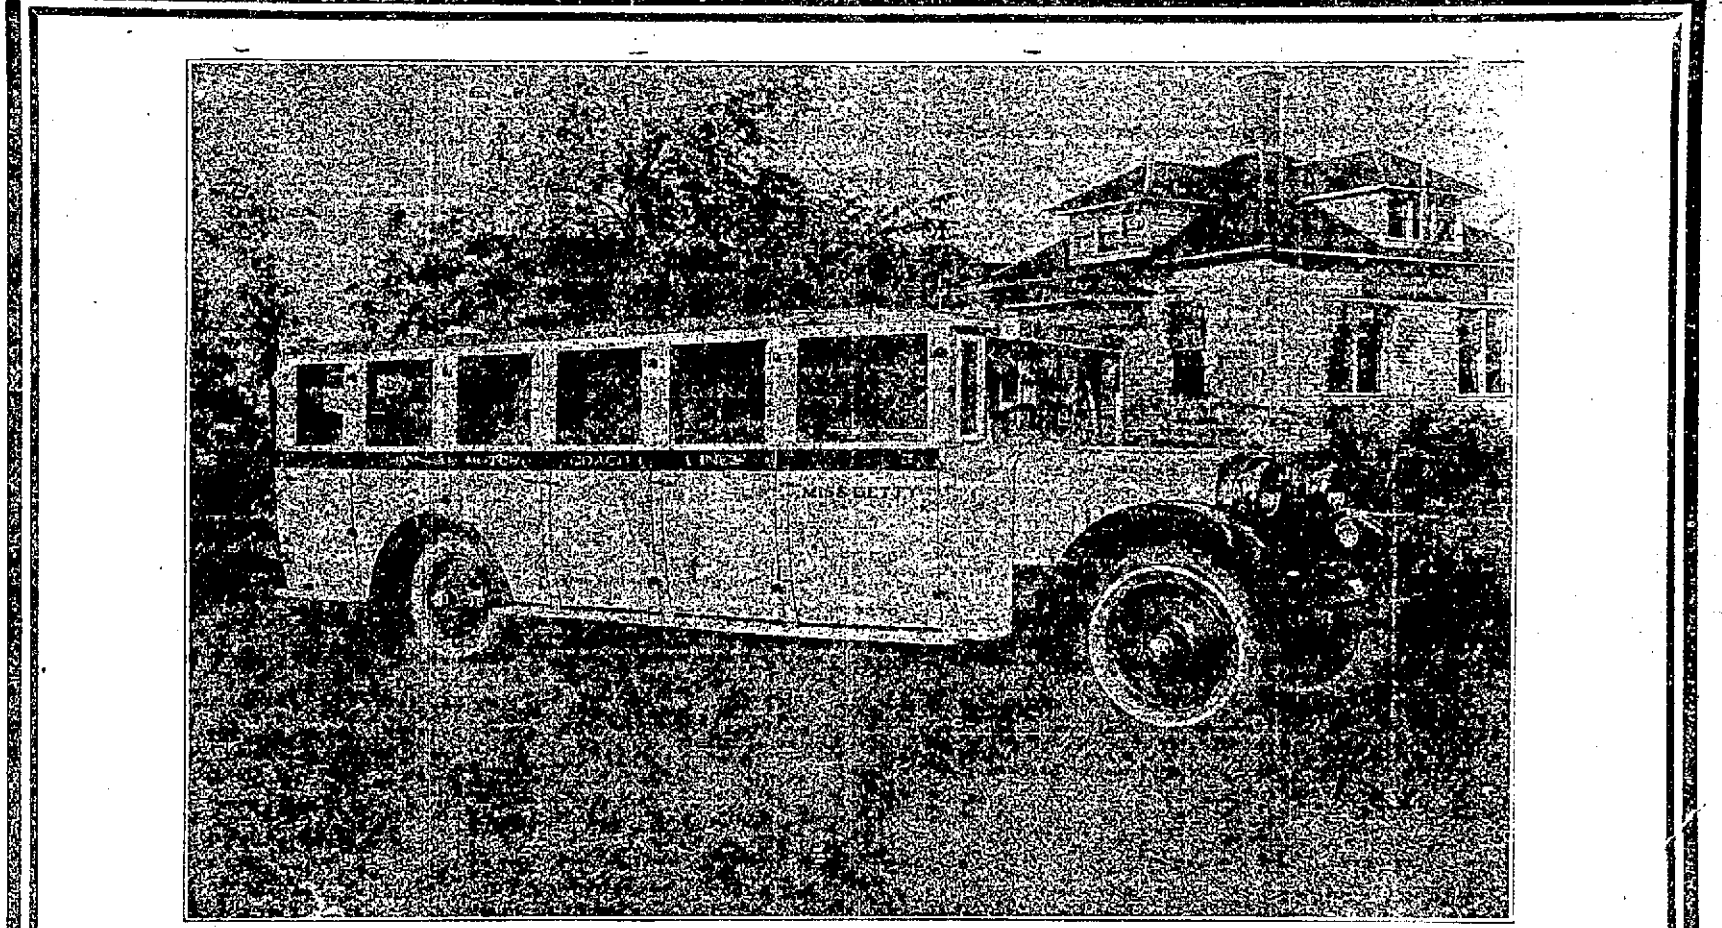

They put it up for me in concentrated form. I apply it with an eye-dropper directly to the scalp. There it combats the hardened oil and dandruff which stifle the hair roots. That is essential. Let those hair roots clog and smother, and the finest hair will fall and wither.

That is clear to you as well as me. Then why not do what I do? Why neglect a beauty factor so precious as your hair?

Now I have placed this same hair help at every woman's call. The name is Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair youth. All druggists and toilet counters supply it at 50c and $1.

See how it attacks the enemies of hair. How it tones and stimulates. Watch how hair begins to thrive when given a hair's chance. Just as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden. I shall gladly send you a small bottle to try if you will mail this coupon. Do this now if you count your hair important.

Grandmother's Cough Remedy—Pine Tar and Honey—Still Best

A well-known specialist said recently that although many wonderful medical discoveries have been made in recent years, nobody has found a better and quicker healing agent for coughs, chest colds, spasmodic croup, hoarseness, throat tickling and other throat and bronchial troubles than good old pine tar and honey. Our grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house, and they raised large families. It still remains one of the few medicines that can be given to young and old alike, as it contains no harmful drugs.

The pine tar quickly soothes and heals soreness and irritation, and by loosening the phlegm removes the actual cause of the coughing. The honey is not only pleasant to the taste but also very soothing to the throat.

The kind that has been used with never-failing success in three of four cases for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar and honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief.

If you want the best be sure to get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. It costs only 30c at any good drugstore.

Whenever a gathering of the entire membership is called some other hall has to be leased. ## How To Prepare For Them

The following suggestions are based partly on our own observations of successful and unsuccessful sales, and partly upon the experience of the prominent auctioneer with whom we are constantly coming in contact.

Time of Handling Sales

If properly conducted, a sale will be successful at any time of the year from September 1st to May 1st, excluding the holiday season. October, November, February and March might be called the best months. It is well to hold a spring auction early, as sales become very numerous towards the end of the season.

Any day in the week is good except Saturday.

Auctioneer and Clerk

There are two points of supreme importance in an auction sale—the auctioneer and the advertising. Both must be the best and neither one alone can make the sale successful.

As to the auctioneer. Get the best man you can. It is better to pay $5.400 more for an auctioneer than to lose $100.00 on your sale.

It takes more than talk to make a good auctioneer. He must be a good business man, a good judge of human nature, and fully acquainted with the value for all kinds of property. He should be especially a good judge of live stock and able to explain points of merit to his bidders. Get your auctioneer the first thing, for his name in your advertisement will help materially to draw attendance.

The auction department has a list (not complete) of auctioneers which will be sent to you free on application.

Select your clerk carefully. His position is a responsible one. He must be quick witted, so as to catch the bids instantly without being confused.

Advertising The Sale

Upon this depends the whole story of failure or success. No one in The Central Fox River Valley should think of holding a sale without advertising it in The Appleton Post-Crescent. This paper has a circulation of 12,300 a great deal of which is received in rural communities and outlying towns in The Central Fox River Valley.

The Post-Crescent reaches practically every house within driving distance of your place. For this reason bills are rapidly going out of use in and surrounding Outagamie County, and more and more settlers are depending on The Post-Crescent alone for their publicity.

REPRODUCTIONS OF THIS FORM WILL BE MAILED ON REQUEST

Use This Form In Making Up Your Auction List

Send it to The Post-Crescent with instructions to publish it in the paper for at least three times just before the sale. Remember, without a crowd your goods will sell below cost. Post-Crescent advertising will bring the crowds.

Making Up The List

This should be begun early and the list should be as complete as possible. Any article you omit may be the very one that would bring some customer to bid. If a machine is new, or nearly new, or in good condition, or if any animal or article is extra good or handsome, specify so. Give the weights of the horses. Have this list made out before you arrange for your advertising.

Credit

Make the term of credit long enough. At a fall sale a year is not too long; at a February sale, 9 months. Notes should bear interest at 6%. Have a supply of printed blanks, promissory notes, which you can buy at any book store, and write, in, in advance, the date, rate of interest, name of payee and place where payable. Usually such notes are made payable to some bank, and the bank will gladly furnish you with the blank notes.

Covers Outagamie County and Entire Central Fox River Valley

In advertising, remember, it is necessary to cover the whole county as well as those surrounding it. A local village paper may advertise your sale well enough for the immediate vicinity, but that is not enough. Your sale is not a neighborhood affair. Your neighbors will know about it any way.

You want the bidders that come, 10, 12, 15, 20, 30 and even 50 miles, the strangers that come with the cash in their pocket.

To get these men, you must put your advertisement in a newspaper that covers completely the necessary counties, and particularly a large rural circulation. There is only one such paper in the Central Fox River Valley — THE APPLETON POST-CRESCENT. This newspaper is read in 90% of the farm homes in Outagamie County alone.

Remember, Your Eggs Are All In One Basket

You have $500, $1000, $2000, or more worth of property all to be sold in ONE day.

Without a crowd, your goods will sell below cost.

With a good crowd, you may make hundreds of dollars.

One bidder may make you enough money to pay all your advertising and your auctioneer besides.

Fifteen dollars or more is nothing compared to the risk you run in selling a thousand dollars worth of property on insufficient advertising.

The question is not "Can I afford it?" but rather, "Dare I take any chances?"

LAWRENCE RALLIES TO BEAT CORNELL, 19 TO 14

Purple Quint Takes Lead In Second Half But Fails To Keep It

Cheers of Large Crowd Shake Armory When Scores See Saw During Hot Contest

Staging a strong rally late in the second half after Cornell had taken a 12 to 9 lead, the Lawrence college basketball five Monday night defeated the Purple, 19 to 14. The Lawrence team played mediocre basketball in the first half but led, 9 to 8, when the period ended. Cornell had a strong offense and penetrated the Blue lines again and again, and early in the second half threatened to run away with the game. However, as soon as the invaders appeared, to have the victory safely snatched away from the Lawrence team came up from behind and gave them all they had. Both coaches were on edge while the score was extremely close, and once were warned by the referee, Lewis, to control their excitement. The largest crowd was in upmost most of the time, cheering both teams impartially.

The Cornell players stuck close to their opponents and forced them to take many long chances, very few of which found their mark. The Purple cagers followed each shot remarkably well and their long shots always were extremely close.

FIRST HALF
Dean, Cornell forward, broke through the Lawrence defense a half minute after the game had started and shot a close shot through the hoop for the first score. Zussman followed suit a few seconds later. The Lawrenceans twice worked the ball under the basket, but the sphere bounded off the iron back times. At last Ashman got another chance and dropped the ball through the hoop.

Hartwell fouled him while he was shooting, and Ashman made both freethrows without touching the ring, and Heideman added another point when he caged a foulthrow on Hines' foul. Kotal fouled Green who made the freethrow, and a minute later Green made another on Heideman's foul. Lewis called a personal on Ashman, but Dean missed the shot.

A few moments later Green arched a high one from the middle of the floor and sent it through the iron, but Briese followed suit and kept the lead for Lawrence. Climer's basket made it 9 to 8, with Lawrence leading. Just before the end of the half Heideman missed two freethrows on Hartwell's foul.

SECOND HALF
Cornell came back strong after the intermission and for several minutes the ball was in Lawrence territory. Kotal missed a chance to add a point when his foulthrow on Climer's foul went wide of the mark, and Hartwell made both his freethrows when Briese fouled him. Climer's basket put Cornell ahead, 12 to 9, and the crowd went wild. Then Kotal started a rally with a perfect basket, and Briese followed with another one from the center of the floor. The house shook with applause which continued when Ashman staged a freethrow which gave Lawrence 14 to 12 lead.

A technical foul on Dean and a personal on Hartwell gave Zussman three more chances two of which he took in perfect form, and after Hartwell had missed his freethrow on Briese's foul, Lawrence adopted stalling tactics, with less than 10 minutes to go. Drawing the Cornell players into Blue territory Lawrence broke up their defense and raced down the floor to make several attempts, but one of which was successful. However, Zussman's fourth foulthrow on Hartwell's fourth personal added the seventeenth point, and Hartwell was replaced by Dykman with five minutes to play.

Both Hines and Kotal missed free-

APPLETON LOCALS BEAT NEW LONDON

New Puckchasing Team Wins First Out of Town Contest Sunday

Appleton Locals Sunday afternoon invaded New London in their first out of town hockey game and there defeated the New London puckchasingers, 1 to 0. Frank Buss, flashy forward, sent the puck into the net near the middle of the second period for the only counter of the game. Most of the contest was played during a heavy snowstorm and the drifting bluff over the ice slowed the players up considerably. The Locals several times worked the puck within easy striking distance but the snow kept it from sliding into the net.

The Locals have arranged a return game which brings the New London team here next week.

Leo Wilz was goal tender for the Locals, Frank Buss and Walt Zimmer forwards, Arnold Buss center, Ira Baldwin and John McHugh guards, and Leo Courtis went in at forward for Frank Buss.

MILWAUKEE GETS 1926 PIN JOUSTS

Fond du Lac—Cary Frey, Milwaukee, held first place in the singles in the Wisconsin Bowling association tournament in progress here by virtue of 657, which he hit Monday. There were no overnight changes in the standings. A collection of first class bowlers, including Oshkosh, West Bend and Milwaukee were to be on the drives Tuesday.

Milwaukee was selected for the 1926 tournament, being the only city to bid for the event. William F. Fenske of Milwaukee was reelected secretary of the state organization.

Manitowoc, Oshkosh and Green Bay representatives announced their city in the running for the 1927 tournament and Madison men to ask for the 1928 event.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOLERS MEET KAUKAUNA INVASION

Appleton Vocational school cage squad Friday will meet an invasion of juniors and seniors of Kaukauna high school, in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The Vocational schoolers recently had a run of losses due to the absence of a couple of regulars, but expect to recover against the Kaukauna team. The Appleton quintet is coached by Eddie Packard, Lawrence football star.

throws, but Heideman dribbled the length of the floor and caged a difficult shot from under the basket. Dean pulled the same stunt with a few seconds to go, and when the final gun went off, Lawrence had won, 19 to 14.

The lineup: Lawrence
R. F. Dean
L. F. Green
C. Climer
R. G. Hartwell, Dykman; Kotal, R. G. L. G. Hines
Briese L. G. Referred—Lewis, Wisconsin.

BARNYARD GOLF TOURNEY
The annual tournament to decide the national horsehoe title will be held at Lake Worth, Fla., from Feb. 18 to 26. It is expected to be the biggest yet staged with entries coming from all over the United States.

If Benny Leonard makes good on his announcement to retire, he will be the second lightweight champion to quit undefeated. Jack McAuliffe was the other.

Volkoff Meets Hills For Chance At Title Of World's Mat King

Students of High School, Business College and Lawrence Appear in Preliminaries

Hassan Volkoff Bulgarian mat champ, Tuesday evening will grapple George Hills in an attempt to climb a step toward the world's championship. The Bulgarian giant arrived in this country with the intention of taking a crack at the title recently won by Wayne (Big) Munn from Ed (Strangler) Lewis at Kansas City. Volkoff is content to make haste slowly in climbing the ladder, and in meeting Hills and others not quite at the top intends to accustom himself to American methods in preparation for later more important matches.

When he locks horns with Hills Hasson is likely to come a crupper. For Hills has met some of the best men in the country and always has made a good showing. Volkoff will have a weight advantage of 15 pounds Tuesday night, but Hills is accustomed to such handicaps, and plans to go in and win. Volkoff's method is to wear his man down as much as possible and then to put on the finishing touch when this process has progressed far enough, in his opinion. Hills is more aggressive and will be in there doing his best from start to finish.

Appleton fans are familiar with Hills from his sojourn here several years ago, but when George makes his next appearance his former friends will hardly know him, so great is the improvement in his skill since he left here. He looks good and allows nothing to interfere with his training. Promoters throughout the country are eager to secure his services and he is booked up far in advance.

The name of Hassan Volkoff as yet is little known here, but his list of bookings in the middle west promises to bring him into the limelight in the near future. He was in Chicago Monday from where he planned to journey here, after issuing a challenge to the winner of the Lewis-Mondt match.

A number of fast preliminaries will begin at 8:15 P. M. in Armory G, in which high school, business college and Lawrence students will grapple. The openers will be run off as quickly as possible as the greatest interest attaches to who main go between Hills and Volkoff. Special rates have been made for all students, and ladies will be admitted free.

Barney Rhodes of Green Bay will referee.

INDEPENDENTS PLAY KAUKAUNA MAROONS

Kimberly—Kaukauna Maroons on Tuesday night will play a return game with the Kimberly Independents in an effort to get revenge for their previous 18 to 14 defeat by the strong Kimberly outfit. In the early part of the season the Maroons issued a challenge to the Independents who accepted it, once, and nosed out a hardwon victory. The Maroons have grown much stronger since their early defeat, according to reports, and have offered to back their chances with any amount of cash.

The Independents have lost but one game out of ten this season, which promises the fans one of the best games on the schedule when they clash with the Electric City five Tuesday night.

The Referee

How many games did Grover Alexander of the Cubs win in 1923?—R. F. E.
Alexander won 22 games and lost 12 in 1923.

When was it that Georgia Tech had one of the best football teams in the country and what was its record?—J. F. E.
Georgia Tech had a high-ranking eleven in 1918, whipping most of its opponents by top-heavy scores. Toward the end of the season it came north to play Pittsburg and was defeated, 32 to 0.

Did Keene Fitzpatrick, Princeton trainer, ever hold a similar position in the middle west?—J. F. E.
Yes. Keene Fitzpatrick was at the University of Michigan before going to Princeton several years ago.

OHIO BOLSTERS HOLD ON SECOND

Minnesota Is Shunted Into Fourth Place in Western Race

Chicago — By losing to Ohio State Monday night at Minneapolis, Minnesota was forced into fourth place in the Western conference basketball race. Ohio at the same time became further entrenched in second place. They now are within half a game of the league leading Illinois five whose present position will go unchallenged for another week.

Indiana and Purdue will argue their positions Tuesday night at Bloomington. Indiana is favored to win. Saturday night's games between Michigan and Chicago, Minnesota and Purdue, Northwestern and Iowa at Ann Arbor, Minneapolis and Evanston, will bring only slight shifting in the positions of the teams. Michigan by defeating the Maroons will tie Ohio, Wisconsin, at present tied with Chicago for the cellar championship, will be idle until Feb. 21, when they meet Illinois at Urbana.

ROLLER SKATERS PLAN RACES HERE

Appleton Speedsters Will Try Conclusions With Oshkosh and Neenah

Roller skating stars of Oshkosh and Neenah Wednesday night will invade this city to race with several Appleton speedsters in the first of a series of speed events to be held in Armory G. here. The Oshkosh men are Roy Zuehlko, Harold Anderson, Fred Strasser, Bud McCabe and Joe Yost. Neenah will be represented by Art Cobby and Art Sawyer, while Appleton will send Harold Sanders, Emory Snyder, Gordon Ratzman and Joe Sharp into the field.

The races will consist of two half-mile elimination heats and the half-mile finals, and one half-mile free-for-all. The second event of this kind is scheduled to start in Armory G on Wednesday, Feb. 11, when teams representing Oshkosh, Neenah and Appleton will race in the first team competition. The second series will be held on the following day at Oshkosh, while the teams will toss up for the date and location of the third. The best two out of three races will decide the winners.

LOOK LIKE REPEATERS
Bill Tilden and Helen Wills, the tennis champions, appear likely to cling to their laurels this season. At this writing there seems to be no one in sight capable of checking their reigns.

Tommy Gibbons, heavyweight title contender, has been in the ring past time since 1913. He has yet to be knocked off his feet.

Hoepple Wins Third Game In Pool Tourney

H. Hoepple Monday night defeated H. Liethen in the third game of the Fox River valley pocket billiards tournament at the Carr, Hansen and Pindle parlors, running off his 100 points while Liethen was making 91. As the score indicates the game was a safe game, avoiding open breaks. Hoepple gained a big advantage when he made a high run of 21 balls. Liethen played a consistent game, making from 5 to 10 shots at almost every turn.

A large crowd thronged the hall, and interest in the tournament is gaining steadily.

BLACK CREEK SWAMPS ONEIDA INDIAN FIVE

Black Creek—Black Creek basketball team Friday won its fifth game at Oneida where the Indians were defeated, 28 to 8. The game was a rough and tumble affair, the first quarter ending, 4 to 0 in favor of the invaders, the half, 8 to 2. In the second half the Black Creek men were accustomed to the small floor and walked away from the tribesmen.

R. Rohloff of Black Creek was the star of the game with eight baskets to his credit.

On Friday, Feb. 6, Black Creek will invade Seymour, while on the following Friday a return game will be played at Black Creek, followed by roller skating.

PHILLIES EXPECT SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Addition of 8 New Players Bolsters Philadelphia's Hopes

Philadelphia—Hopes of the Philadelphia Nationals rising from a chronic second division team this year lie in the ability of the eight players who have been obtained to strengthen the club.

The Phillies finished seventh last season avoiding the cellar by producing some heavy hitting, but Fletcher believes that he has assembled a squad for the 1925 race which will edge into the first division. The team has been weak in pitching and has lacked a reliable third baseman. If these holes are plugged the club promises to make a creditable showing.

On Feb. 20, the Phillies will hurry to their new training camp at Bradenton, Fla. The pitchers and catchers are expected to leave a few days ahead of the other players and all men will be in camp Mar. 1.

HILBERT FIVE DEFEATS ROCKY MOUNTAIN CHAMPS

Hilbert—Defeating the Denver Rocky Mountain champions, 24 to 21, Monday night, the Hilbert All Home basketball team made it 13 wins out of 15 games played this year. The game was rough and hardfought from the start. Meier and Ortioph were the high scorers for the Hilbert quintet, while the floorwork of Schmidt and the guarding of Huettner and Vollmer played a large part in Hilbert's victory.

GOOD PASTURES AIDED FARMER IN LOW MILK YEAR

HEAVY CROP OF HAY PROVED OF HELP TO LIVESTOCK OWNERS

Potato Movement Slow Due to Low Price, Year's Review Indicates

Madison—Unusually good pastures during the summer of 1924 partly compensated the producers of dairy products for the low prices of milk existing during the year, the annual crop review issued by the state and federal crop and livestock reporting service, reports. Prices for butterfat or milk on a whole milk basis were 16 per cent lower in 1924 than during the previous year, the report states. "Hay and small grain supplies, are for the most part, satisfactory," the report says. "Some hay will be carried over for another year in southern Wisconsin. A poor corn crop with but little ripe corn to feed is a weak spot in the feed situation and especially handicaps farmers in southern Wisconsin who rely upon homegrown corn fed to hogs as an important part of the farm income. Farmers are buying feed sparingly in view of the supplies of homegrown hay and grain and the relatively high prices of milk feeds compared to prices of butterfat."

"Potato growers are hoping for an improvement in the potato market and the carrot movement out of the state has been somewhat slower. Prices have remained at a low level—30 cents to 35 cents a bushel. The returns to many growers have been low for four consecutive years, due either to small yields or low prices."

"Tobacco growers are handling a crop of very poor quality due to cool wet weather during the growing season. The general practice this year is to strip straight as the small per cent of binders in the crop does not justify a separation of the various grades of binders, fillers and stemmings. The crop is essentially stemming tobacco and present prices to growers indicate an average of about nine cents a pound compared to about twelve cents last year. Because of frost and unfavorable weather during the last two years, only about 20 per cent of the 1923 crop and 5 per cent of the 1924 crop was binder tobacco."

"Canning peas proved to be the best cash crop in Wisconsin last year. Although the largest pack on record, the 1924 crop was absorbed without difficulty by the canning trade. The industry is faced with an extreme seed shortage due to practically a failure of the seed crop in the western states. The condition will probably restrict the 1925 acreage."

"Good prices and unusually big yields of rye and beans have been very helpful to farmers on the sandy areas of central Wisconsin."

40 COWS HIT HIGH BUTTERFAT MARK IN 30-DAY TEST

William Fischer Has Highest Producer in Ellington Association

Forty cows owned by members of Ellington-Cousins County Cow-Teasing association last month produced milk containing more than 40 pounds of butterfat, according to the January report of S. A. Laird, secretary, and Henry Brahmer, official tester. Thirteen of this number produced more than 50 pounds each and one cow produced nearly 70 pounds. The high cow of the month was a grade Holstein owned by William Fischer. Her record was 1,556 pounds of milk and 68.1 pounds butterfat and the test was 4.1 per cent. The second highest cow was a grade Jersey of M. E. Nelson which had a record of 1,202 pounds of milk and 58.9 pounds of butterfat, testing 4.9 per cent.

The high herds of the month were as follows: Four grade Holsteins and Grade Guernsey cows of John Fischer with an average of 50.4 pounds of butterfat; six grade Jersey and purebred Guernsey cows of M. E. Nelson with an average production of 47.5 pounds; eleven grade Holsteins of William Fischer with an average of 44.7 pounds of butterfat.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family remedy easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. For 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes. To your disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SEE BETTER OUTLOOK FOR FARMS IN 1925

University of Minnesota Believes Prices for Livestock Will Be Stronger

St. Paul, Minn. — "The outlook for agriculture in 1925 is more rosy than it has been for sometime," is the prediction of Andrew Boss, economist of the University of Minnesota experiment station here. "There is good statistical foundation," he says, "for the belief that prices for hogs, beef cattle, sheep and wool will be higher in 1925 than they were in 1924. There is strong prospect for a shortage of breeding hogs and a known shortage of wool."

"Apparently the cattle business has been completely deflated and better prices seem sure to follow. Prospects are that prices for dairy and poultry products may hold steady or increase slightly, provided there does not occur a business and industrial depression which will deprive city laborers of much of their buying power."

BLACK CREEK FARMERS LOADED 26 CARS CATTLE

Black Creek Shipping association reports a profitable year of shipping activities. While the receipts were not so large as those of the previous year, the members are quite satisfied and are looking forward to better business this year.

According to the report made by Arnold Stephani, shipping manager, the association shipped a total of 26 carloads for its members last year. Of this number, 12 were billed for Chicago and 14 for Milwaukee. The livestock included 95 head of cattle, 902 hogs, 706 calves and 13 sheep. The year previous the association shipped 32 carloads.

Gross receipts for 1924 totaled $23,535, and the net receipts amounted to $21,708.91. The home expenses were $703.59, while the amount paid to members was $21,076.19.

TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR

Tells of the Benefit Received by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leavenworth, Kansas. — "My work was long-distance operating and supervising, and I got into a very nervous state and was all run-down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me I tried it. It quieted my nerves, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before."

— Mrs. O. W. THIEL, 925 Pawnee St., Leavenworth, Kansas.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Have You Discovered Wisconsin?

VOYAGES of discovery are still being made into Wisconsin although 285 years have elapsed since Father Nicolet first navigated the Wisconsin River into the heart of the Badger State. Manufacturers, who through lack of territorial analysis and investigation have overlooked the profit potentialities of the Wisconsin market, are more and more discovering that here is one of the most prosperous and stable trading districts on the North American Continent! This statement is based on the fact that Wisconsin leads the country in dairy production as well as diversity of manufacturing industries — two outstanding and necessary factors in commercial dominance. Nowhere is the balance of industrial employment, and of rural stability better maintained than in Wisconsin. Full-visioned exploration of the Wisconsin market is best made through the 47 Wisconsin Daily Newspapers that open the doors to 715,000 prosperous homes in this permanent, profitable market. ## Uncommon Sense

There's such a thing as common sense plus-and that's the quality in people to which the ads in the Post-Crescent's Classified Section appeal.

Common sense tells you that it's a good policy to make your money go as far as you can, to save it and double its buying power.

But that's as far as common sense takes a lot of people-somewhat it doesn't seem to get them into action when the opportunities are presented.

It's the people with uncommon sense who are saving and making money through the buying and selling advantages offered in the Post-Crescent's classified columns every day.

There's money there for you today-tomorrow-and every day of the year!

Has Come to be a Real Social Asset in these Days of Recognized Smartness

HOMES must be just as fashionable as their owner's clothes — for they are now judged by the same standards! Only yesterday, guests accepted the hospitality of one's house without questioning its furnishings. Now the most casual caller mentally notes the smartness or dowdiness of a home. Fashions in furnishings are constantly changing. Draperies that were hung three years ago are quite out of style to-day! A graduate decorator will tell you of the newest fashions in Homes without obligation to buy here.

Push the button and you have light BUT--

Is it the right kind of light?

This is a question of great importance and should be well worth a few moments time for checking over the arrangement in your home.

Just as much thought and care should be given to the correct illumination of the Home-Beautiful as is put into color schemes, furnishings, etc.

The right wattage, shape or color lamps required are often questionable, but should be very easily adjusted with the aid of our complete assortment of Westinghouse and Edison Mazda Lamps.
